

DEAR PROBLEMS!

‘Finally, checkmate!’

cried problem number 101 as I slowly tried to turn around and run

It was a game

the game of my life and despite my best efforts,

I had failed to play it safe

It was easy to conquer problem number one as well as two, three and four but 5th one had some difficulties and 6th one brought some more!

As the numbers kept on increasing the situation became harder and finally, I was inside their jail shaking with terror!!

I was looking here and there searching for a way out of that crowd, the crowd of all the problems, but the way out of it was never found...

Now I am still here standing in their middle but now, I’ve become the one with whom they don’t dare to meddle!

I am brave, I am strong

I am totally unafraid

Because,

I've already perused my destiny and now I am on my way to change it for good!!!
